

Tommy Little

Comedian / Presenter

At just 25 years old, Tommy Little was labeled "The Future Of Funny" by Beat Magazine in Melbourne. With a charm and confidence beyond his years Tommy has been quietly building a following on the stand up circuit, culminating in a sold out run at the 2010 Melbourne Comedy Festival with his show "Brainthoughts". This followed on from his sell out 2009 show, "Getaway" which chronicles Tommy's attempt to make his own TV travel show (including a bit of nude bungy in New Zealand) and in 2011 Tommy once again had fans flocking to see his show "Tommy Little Has No Answers".

Tommy is a regular face on the Aussie comedy scene performing at premiere venues across the country and earning new fans as he goes. He mixes up his club work with corporate events acting as an MC for Blue Chip companies such as Sony, Optus and Austereo.

Tommy provided live crosses from the track as part of Channel Nine's Spring Racing Coverage in 2009 and has appeared on The Today Show and Mornings With Kerry-Anne. Radio has gotten on board with Tommy making regular appearances on Nova's Launchpad and performing stand-up on Hughesy and Kate's Melbourne Nova Breakfast show. In 2011 he is fast becoming a favourite for the Friday Whip segment of Channel Ten's 7PM Project.

Tommy put his hand up in 2008 to write for Channel 31's talk show, Studio A hosted by Dave Thornton. When Dave left the show Tommy was offered the host chair and jumped at the opportunity to host a show on the channel that launched the careers of Rove McManus and Hamish and Andy. Since the launch in June 2010 Tommy has already interviewed Glenn Robbins, Josh Thomas and Charlie Pickering and his assured debut has raised more than a few eyebrows in industry circles.

Take note, Tommy Little is going places.

"Instantly witty, extremely affable...the future of funny is in capable hands" - Beat Magazine

"RUSH to see him! This boy is going to have an incredible future."
Kryztoff Magazine

"You can't help but smile at Tommy Little."
